Distinguished Speaker

Professor Francis Ka-Leung Chan is Professor of Medicine and Therapeutics and Dean of the Faculty of Medicine at the Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) in Hong Kong. Professor Chan received his Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery (MBChB) degree from CUHK. After completing his internal medicine residency and his gastroenterology fellowship at Prince of Wales Hospital in Hong Kong, and then at Foothills Hospital in Alberta, Canada, he joined the Division of Gastroenterology & Hepatology at CUHK, where he went on to receive his Doctor of Medicine degree and assume his current roles. Professor Chan was appointed Specialty Board Chairman of Gastroenterology and Hepatology in Hong Kong in 2010, and received the prestigious Doctor of Science degree in 2011 from CUHK in recognition of his outstanding academic achievements.

Professor Chan has authored or co-authored more than 400 scientific articles, and was the first academic to publish 7 first-authored original articles in the New England Journal of Medicine and the Lancet. His research work has revolutionized management guidelines worldwide, including those issued by the American College of Gastroenterology, the American Heart Association, and many European countries (Maastricht IV Consensus 2012). Further to his clinical duties, Professor Chan has made significant contributions to public health in Hong Kong. He launched the first bowel cancer screening program in the eastern New Territories in 1999 and organized a large-scale SARS screening test for over 12,000 people during the SARS outbreak in 2003. Among his many awards and honors, Professor Chan was appointed "Justice of the Peace" by the Hong Kong Government in 2010.
